Walter Johnson Proves Too Much for Athletics

Quaker City Clan Forced to Admit "Barney" Is Some Hurler.

King Barney was right today. And when Barney was right, Con-nie Mack and his $1,000 infield had a tough time approaching him, so apeaking, along with regular line of fans, so who expect the down-trod-de warriors from Philidelphia to catch up to the speeding Griffmen, with the mighty Walter Johnson in the pivot. The victory was a scant one as, one tally scored by the National in the opening frame did the trick, but only phenomenal fielding play saved the day on four occasions for

The big Kansas train was shooting them by the visiting batters with so much whiz-bang fire that even the much whiz-bang fire that even the slugging George Burns and Amos Strunk were forced to repeat what Ty Cobb has many, many times said, "You can't hit what you can't see." These few words speak a mouthful as the Kingpin of the Smokehouse was better than ever after his four-day lay-off, and the way he breezed them through made Connie and his tribe look like Government Leaguers tribe look like Government Leaguers Three words will tell the entire efeat of the Mackmen; "too much ohnson." It is an old headline, but is better placed here than ever as falt was himself today and just kept the visitors guessing through-out the battle as only one man got as far as the third corner off his slants. Opposed to the sharp-shoot-ing expert was Wallace Kinney of after the first frame, but his teammates refused to encroach along from Johnson by the strike-out route during the pastime while the mighty Barney put a one, two, three crasher over in the third frame, fanning Kopp, Thomas and Walker. Barney allowed but five bingles during the pastime and Kopp was the only native of the slow-town that was passed. The Denison, Texas, youngster gave a regular "Mary Pickford" performance on the hill and it was a shame that he could not be the co be given an even break with the Griffith Ace as he sure twisted his portside glants when hits meant

For the visitors, in the first, Kopp walked and Walker scratched a hit through the inner works, but neither saw third base, as both Strunk and Burns hoisted out.
